THE MONTANA KAIMIN

Z400 Vol. XLX Tuesday, October 5, 1948 No. 5

The News in Brief National and Collegiate

Boston—The Cleveland Indians cinched the American league pennant Monday by downing the Boston Red Sox, 8-3. The Indians will meet the Boston Braves in the first game of the world series at the Bean Town field Wednesday.

MSC—Montana State college at Bozeman announced that enrollment has reached 2,934, or at least 400 less than that of MSU. Other enrollment figures from around the west: University of Oregon, 5,800; University of Utah, 10,000; Oregon State, 7,300; University of Idaho, 3,600; Denver University, 11,000.

Paris—While the United Nations security council was opening debate on the Berlin crisis, United States Secretary of State Marshall, Britain's Ernest Bevin and their top advisers on German affairs met with French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman in Paris Monday. They had with them texts of the Russian note which replied to their notice in the Kremlin last week that they considered direct east-west negotiations for a Berlin settlement a failure.

Salt Lake City—Denver University's rumored attempt to ease out of the Skyline Six for the big time might put the Pioneers in a position similar to that of Montana and Idaho in the PCC, says the University of Utah Chronicle. The Chronicle states: "They were used as a springboard for big name colleges, as a doormat for testing new prospects." Now, it continues, both teams are seeing better days, but might well be in a smaller conference.

Berkeley—Former MSU student Gene Kramer, Missoula, recently received a by-line in the Daily Californian on an article entitled, "Sex Report Hit." Kramer transferred to Cal this year.

Fresno, Calif.—Henry Wallace was refused permission to speak at Fresno State college Monday. College officials blamed "public relations" as the reason for the cancellation.

Helena—Governor Sam C. Ford has announced that Oct. 10 will be Grandmother's day in Montana.

Campbell Park Getting Lights

Installation of lights at Campbell park will begin tomorrow with the erection of floodlight poles, according to Morris McCollum, university director of the project.

Contractors plan to complete setting up poles and transformers this fall. The wiring will be done in the spring in time for the Grizzlies' diamond opener.

McCollum said that original plans called for completion of all work this summer but that shortage of equipment forced the change in schedule. Single poles will replace the spliced poles which were to be used originally.

The lights will put Campbell field among the best parks in the northwest. The diamond is used by City league teams and the American Legion squad, as well as the Grizzlies.

SDX PLANS ACTIVITIES AT MEETING TONIGHT

Sigma Delta Chi, national men's professional journalistic fraternity, will hold its first regular meeting of the school year tonight at 8:30 in Journalism 309.

Arrangements will be made for initiating hold-over pledges, pledging eligible J-majors, and electing delegates to the national convention in Milwaukee. A program of activities for the year will also be outlined, said Paul Verdon, Poplar, president of the group.

He asked that all SDX actives and pledges attend the meeting.

Boys Are Boys.

Kappas Suffer

"Boys will be boys" seemed to be the attitude of the contractor, Jim Parmelee, when Burly Miller talked to him about the infantile escapade of some would-be funny men Thursday night. Removing the Kappa chairs to the Alpha Phi house, they replaced them with any loose objects they could find around the premises.

"If I had been in his place, I wouldn't have been nearly so decent about it all," declared Burly.

It all started when a small kitchen window in the Kappa house was accidentally left unlocked. With stealthy tread, the intruders removed about 30 chairs. Apparently not wanting to have the house completely denuded, they brought back in place of the chairs anything they could lay their hands upon.

Irreplaceable glass bricks in crates were included in the loot. At $19 apiece, they were in the "gold brick" class. Radiators, so heavy that only boys with a little extra "lift" would have considered lugging them, and the precious blueprints for the Kappa house were added. Just for good measure, the workmen's tools were dumped in a heap in the front hall.

The next morning, with five brick layers standing idle at $30 an hour, the contractor had to have the chairs and bricks returned.

Kerr Drops Independents Before They Drop Him

Registration Hits 3,400 Mark

Student number 3,400 completed registration Monday noon according to Mrs. Emma Lommasson, assistant registrar. He is William Francis LaCombe, a sophomore from Missoula.

LaCombe, 19, attended MSU spring quarter and is a business administration major. He lives at 1129 South Fifth street west.

Mrs. Lommasson said that students were still registering Monday afternoon and that the latest exact figures on registration are indefinite.

'Greek God' Says Taking Chairmanship a 'Publicity Gag'

BY TED HILGENSTUHLER

"It was all a publicity stunt" declared Frank Kerr at an OIS meeting last night in reference to his recent election as temporary chairman of that organization.

Maintaining that there was no personal motive involved either by himself or Sigma Nu, Kerr stated that his election and subsequent statements were just a publicity stunt to bolster OIS support.

Kerr and some seven cohorts then left the meeting in the Gold Room amidst the applause of approximately seventy-five students who had gathered for the meeting.

Mary Lueck, Missoula, acting chairman of the OIS announced that there is a stipulation in their constitution which reads, "The OIS shall be composed of students not belonging to any fraternity or sorority at MSU."

Early appearances seemed to indicate that the combined efforts of Kerr and the OIS had proved successful with such a large turnout.

However, later developments showed that Montana's privately owned political stewpot has slowly simmered out as about 45 of the members present were from New hall seeking endorsement by OIS for a Homecoming queen candidate.

After a great deal of floor debate the OIS finally decided to back Ann Landry, Somers, as the New Hall-OIS candidate for Homecoming queen.

Many of the New Hall girls stated that they attended the meeting mainly to get backing for the Homecoming queen candidate but that they were also interested in joining the OIS.

A strong appeal was made by Miss Lueck for renewed interest in OIS for political campaigns and social functions. "We won with Laura Bergh in the Homecoming queen campaign of 1946 and we can do it again," she said.

Snag Results In Student Trade Program

Dr. B. E. Thomas, chairman of the MSU International Education committee, said today, "The major obstacle in exchanging students with foreign countries is the fluctuation in the exchange values of money."

Opponents of the student exchange system, Mr. Thomas pointed out, claim that the schools in this country are greatly overcrowded without enrolling foreign students.

Mr. Thomas continued, "It is true at the present time that our schools are overcrowded; however, the benefits gained by this program in the infiltration of new ideas and different viewpoints more than compensates us for our trouble. The exchanging of students at this time serves a definite need in promoting better understanding between nations of the world."

The Institute of International Education in New York screens and evaluates the foreign student's credits so they will meet local scholastic requirements. There are five foreign students who are here on university scholarships.

Two foreign exchange students now on campus are living at the Delta Gamma and Tri Delta sororities.

Next week, a male French student is expected to arrive here. This student would like to live in a fraternity. If any fraternities can accommodate this student, they are requested to contact Mr. Thomas in the Old Science building, this week.

Former MSU Football Star To Return For Homecoming

Holder of 14 letters in major sports at MSU and a backfield powerhouse on the 1915 Grizzly team which tied Syracuse 6 to 6 for the nation's mythical football championship, Brig. Gen. Lawson H. M. Sanderson, now deputy commander of the First Marine air wing, will be among those present for the University's Homecoming Oct. 8 and 9.

On the welcoming committee will be another member of that famous 1915 team, Leonard Daems of Bozeman, who captained the Grizzlies that year. The committee, under Massey McCullough, Missoula, chairman, includes Frank McDonnell, Great Falls, and Harry Adams, Guy Mooney, Bill Walters-Kirchen and Col. Jay B. Lovless, Missoula, all alumni of the University.

A special invitation to the Marine general was extended by the alumni office after suggestions from several of his classmates. Word that he would be able to attend was relayed to the alumni office through Rep. Mike Mansfield's office in Washington, D. C.

General Sanderson left the University to enlist in the Marines in the first World War. The highlight of his colorful career in the Marines included what probably was the world's first dive-bombing attack, the setting of a world air speed record, and, on September 5, 1945, the acceptance from Rear Admiral Sakaibara of the surrender of Japanese forces on Wake Island 1,362 days after that island fell in one of the second World War's most courageous fights.

The "daddy" of dive-bombing attacks was made in 1919 against

Haiti insurrectionists when Sanderson, then a Marine lieutenant, slung a bomb in a flour sack tied to the undercarriage of his plane with a gadget rigged up to release the open end of the sack. "It was like shaking a cat out of a bag," he reported after he dived on his target and the bomb skittered from the sack.

General Sanderson was a close personal friend of Paul Dornblaser, the Grizzly athlete after whom the University athletic field was named.

Mountaineer Staff Sets Deadline November 12

The Mountaineer staff set the deadline for submission of material for the fall issue at November 12 at their first meeting of the year Thursday afternoon. Persons wishing to contribute articles, stories, or poetry may leave their contributions in the box outside Library 105.

They also discussed business plans for the quarter and made the following appointments: Advertising manager, Jean Ann Pocha, Findlay, Ohio; circulation manager, Mary Fran Law, Harlowton; and publicity manager, Marjorie Boesen, Livingston.

N. Y. TIMES ARRIVES FOR CURRENT EVENTS

Current Events class members may pick up their copies of the New York Times in Journalism 208A, the main office, by contacting Mrs. DeCorey. Veterans should note the fact that they are veterans when they sign their names, Mrs. DeCorey said.

Masquers to Map Ticket Campaign

Organization of activities for the season ticket campaign will feature the initial Montana Masquer meeting tonight at 7:15 in Simpkins hall, according to Marilyn Neils, Libby, president.

Plans are also to be made for the Masquers' annual "Spotlite Ball" to be held next month.

Married Students To Elect Mayor

A combination Homecoming dance and election for a new Strip House Mayor will be held Oct. 9 from 9 p.m. through midnight at the Community Center.

The polling for the election will be taken at special booths set up at the dance.

All married students and visiting alumni are invited to attend. Strip house residents are the only ones eligible to vote.

Simpkins Reactivated

The coming year truly should be one of the Masquers best years, and their return to Simpkins hall winter quarter will certainly not be any hinderance, unless the place catches on fire. At long last the audience will have a better chance to hear what transpires up near the footlights. The old top-balcony and under-the-balcony seats of the Student Union will be "dead" to MSU playgoers—fine, fine.

The selection of plays is to be commended. "Life With Father" and "Winterset" alone could satisfy the appetite for a good play and both afford plenty of variety. The musical selection, "Alice in Wonderland," should have a good reception if last year's "Desert Song" is any indication of what is to come. Placing "Winterset" and the old-time "Volpone" in Simpkins will give the actors a better break also. Playing to a smaller, compact audience should bring about a more informal and relaxed presentation.

The Kaimin intends to review each play this year, providing this season's promoter for the shows provides the adequate facilities.—P.A.H.

Something to Remember

Every politician should remember that in his quest for office he can over-reach what is politely termed "political expediency" and thereby lose the respect of those who hold him kindly.

There are politicians who will do anything, promise anything, say anything to achieve victory at the polls. There are instances where victory has been bought at such a price, and the victor lives to see the fruit turn to ashes in his mouth.

There is a point beyond which no decent person will go to win a political victory. Such a person thinks more of the respect of his friends, his standing in the community, and the fact that he has to live with himself than he does of political victory. There are times when it is better to be respectable than victorious.—Missoula County Times.

Staff Comments

BY THE ROVER BOYS

Things are going from bad to worse. Not only have prices on food, clothing, and rent soared sky-high but the Bug Science department is also having a bit of inflation. President McCain informed a staff member that frogs, dogfish, and rabbit pellets have all taken a drastic jump. The labs formerly used 400 frogs per year. They now use 700 and the price has jumped from $14 to $29 per 100. Dogfish jumped from $8 to $14 per dozen, and good ole rabbit pellets climbed from $2 to $4.50 per hundred—just one of the many increases in operation that point to the need for the okay of 51-52.

We received a clipping from ex-Kaimin editor Vic Reimner this week, who is on his way to "study" in Paris along with that capable penman Eugene Bottomly. The clipping had this to say: "Defense Minister Cheng Kaimin was ordered to Shanghai to dispose of surplus American supplies rotting and rusting in stockpiles there." Vic had this to say: "Selish, hell—it's Chinese."

(The word Kaimin means something written or printed in Selish Indian lingo.)

New Doctor Assigned Health Service

New personnel and equipment added to the university health service were listed yesterday by Dr. C. R. Lyons, director.

Dr. Willard Nicholl arrived Sept. 14 to fill the position of assistant director which was vacated last spring by Dr. Ladislav Stolfa. Dr. Nicholl attended Harvard university for three years after receiving his bachelor's degree from Roxbury Latin school, West Roxbury, Mass., in 1939.

He received his M.D. degree from Tufts College medical school, Boston, in 1945 and was given his license from the National Board of Medical Examiners the same year.

His training and experience includes junior internship at Cambridge, Mass., city hospital; intern pathology at the Institute of Pathology, Boston city hospital; rotating internship at the Montreal general hospital; and resident trainee at St. Luke's hospital, Newburgh, N. Y.

BY BILL SMURR

On Thursday new Bear Paws will be tapped at SOS. If tradition holds good most of them will be fraternity men, and the number chosen from each house will roughly approximate the size of the chapter role.

I intend to be there with a calculator to record this stirring event.

What will I calculate? That's easy: I will be busy figuring how many Independents were frozen out.

One year ago I was tapped for Bear Paw. What had I done to win this honor? Absolutely nothing. I was chosen because it was supposed I would be willing to work for the school, which I was and still am, and because I was a fraternity man. That's all there was to it.

At the end of that year I was elected Right Paw when Royal Johnson became Chief Grizzly. Did I deserve THIS honor? I did not. Royal worked hard for the Knights and deserved his reward. I was chosen because the electioneering went awry, and the man who should have been elected (the man I worked for) lost out, and I was winner by a fluke.

After the election Royal told Left Paw Fred Bordeau and myself that he intended to change the whole system. We approved. From now on, he said, new Paws would be tapped on merit, regardless of affiliation, and Independents might expect a better show. I left convinced that the Knights could reform themselves. I may have been wrong.

If someone can prove to me that fraternity men alone make good Bear Paws I'll lay off. It is probably true that Greeks are by-and-large more eager to work for the school, and for that reason there will always be more fraternity men in the chapter than their numbers might justify. I can't object to this.

I'm not arguing that Independents should outnumber other members three-to-one, as they do in the academic school. I am arguing that MORE Independents would work for Bear Paw points if they could be sure that the system wasn't rigged against them from the start. Every school in the West has had to examine the honorary system and decide what Kaimin readers will have to decide about this business.

If Johnson meant what he said last year I am overjoyed. If he didn't the students shall know of it. That's a promise.

Johnson might long for a bigger office. When the time to run for that office comes around he won't stand a chance unless he can prove that he is a politician who keeps a promise.

McGinnis Speaks To Campus GOP's Tonight

The first meeting of the fall for Montana State University Young Republicans will be in the Bitter-root room of the Student Union at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday evening, Oct. 5. Speaker for the evening will be Ralph McGinnis, university speech professor, Montana Republican official, and former candidate for Congress from the Western district.

Professor McGinnis will speak on "The Montana Campaign—Issues and Personalities." During the last few months, Professor McGinnis has traveled extensively in Montana, attending conferences and talking with voters and candidates. His observations have been the subject of talks before various Western Montana organizations and clubs but his appearance before the Young Republicans will be his first discussion of this topic in Missoula.

GRIZZLIES ENTERTAIN WSC HERE SATURDAY; ROUT PACIFIC, 27-0

Cougar Scout Portends Homecoming Highlight Will Be Close Contest

Montana's Grizzlies entertain the Cougars of Washington State Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock as a highlight of Homecoming festivities.

Back Bailey, Washington State's chief scout, was in the press box Saturday night for the second straight week and watched the Grizzlies in their 27-0 conquest of Pacific university. Bailey portended a close game this Saturday.

"The Grizzlies always play a good game against us," Bailey explained. "They'll be tough and out to get us. They weren't pressed to night and it's hard to tell what they can do. It'll be a heck of a good ball game."

In the locker room after the PU tilt, Montana Mentor Doug Fessenden said his Grizzlies would "give WSC a better game than they gave Pacific."

WSC Also Wins

Washington State passed and ran to a 14-7 victory over Stanford in Pullman Saturday afternoon after losing 26-46 to UCLA three weeks ago. Montana gained its first victory of the season Saturday after bowing to Utah State, 7-18, and Cheney, 7-12.

In their 27-0 rout of Pacific, the Grizzlies made capital of two recovered fumbles as they scored in the first, second, and fourth periods. They out rushed, out passed, and compiled more first downs than the Badgers.

After a Grizzly drive was foiled on the Badger 2-yard line early in the initial stanza, Halfback Roy Malcolm returned a Pacific punt 38 yards to the Badger 30-yard line. Right halfback Jack O'Loughlin passed to End Bill Reynolds on the 20.

Bunny Breaks Away

Fullback Dan Radakovich, faking a line buck skirted right end to the 1-yard line as Guard Monk Semansky threw a key block. Quarterback John Holding sneaked over to score, and Buck Preuninger converted.

Steve Kuberic's recovered

fumble on the Pacific 35 set up Montana's second tally in the second quarter. A Holding-to-Reynolds pass, and O'Loughlin's line buck moved the Grizzlies to scoring territory. O'Loughlin went off left tackle from the 1 to score, and Preuninger again converted.

The teams battled on even terms in the third period. In the last quarter, Sam Leeper retrieved a Pacific fumble on the Badger 49-yard line. Holding passed to Reynolds for 13, and Fullback B. J. Smith went 18. Two aerials fell incomplete before Holding passed to Malcolm for a score. Preuninger's try for point was wide.

Grizzlies Race Clock

With two seconds remaining, Montana garnered its fourth score on the end of a 76-yard sustained drive. Quarterback Tom Kingsford's passes and the running of Halfback Jack Malone moved the ball to the Badger 2-yard line. Kingsford sneaked over and Preuninger converted.

For Montana, Reynolds, Kuberic, Hank Ford, and the first-string backfield stood out. Third-string Fullback B. J. Smith proved to be a find. Smith had runs of 21 and 23 yards to his credit.

Four Grizzlies suffered injuries. Radakovich and O'Loughlin sustained knee injuries. Tackle Lee Cork received a hairline fracture of his nose, and Guard Doyle Harris was cleated in the face.

Pacific's attack featured a wide-open game sprinkled with numerous passes and spread formations. Tackling and downfield blocking

Coach Chinske Greets 78 Freshmen Gridders; Expects 10 More This Week

Seventy-eight freshmen, largest turnout in university history, were on hand last week for the Grizzly Cubs' first practice session of the season.

According to Frosh Coach Eddie Chinske, the number should be increased by at least 10 this week. This year Chinske is assisted by Robert "Boney" Gorton, who is working with the linemen. Gorton is a prewar Grizzly veteran and was outstanding guard from the 1947 squad.

Among the frosh hopefuls are Bob Byrne, Billings, and Laurie LeClaire, Anaconda, the two outstanding halfbacks in August's East-West Shrine game in Great Falls. Other stand-outs in the Shrine game who will be vying for positions on the Cub team are Bob Rothweiler, guard, and Fred Volk, tackle, both of Great Falls, and Harold Maus, big end from Hamilton.

Chinske's first problem is to find a quarterback, the key man in a T-formation. The freshman club spent the week learning six running plays and trying to determine the best combination for a backfield.

Grizzly Cubs will open their four-game schedule with the Washington State freshmen in Pullman, Oct. 22. A home-and-home series is scheduled with the Bobkittens on consecutive week ends, in Missoula Oct. 30 and in Bozeman Nov. 6. The Cubs' final game with Butte School of Mines is slated in Missoula, Nov. 13.

Coward Clashes With Bonehead

Grizzly gridders Doyle Harris told the tale of "The Coward and the Bonehead" Saturday night in the Montana dressing room after the Pacific university game.

As the story goes, the rotund lineman raced into the Pacific backfield to block a punt. Instead, Badger Fullback Bill Taylor, right foot in air, and ball higher in air kicked Harris in the face. Dazed, Harris felt his upper lip.

Bedazzled, Harris saw Taylor fall to the ground, grasp his ankle, and moan, "Oh, they got me."

Big Grizzly Tackle Suffers Knee Injury

Tom Monahan, reserve Grizzly tackle, suffered a knee injury in practice last week that may keep him out of action for the remainder of the season.

Dr. Willard Nicholl of the university health service said yesterday that he cannot determine the extent of the injury for at least two weeks. Monahan sustained torn knee ligaments.

Senator Barkley Brings Democratic Campaign Here

MSU students will have their second chance in as many weeks to size up a major candidate when Senator Alben W. Barkley speaks in the Student Union auditorium at 9:40 Friday morning.

The vice-presidential candidate from Kentucky will speak in Butte Thursday evening and then fly to Missoula either later that night or Friday morning. He will travel by private plane.

Prof. E. L. Freeman, chairman of the public exercises committee, pointed out that students would be able to compare Democratic strategy with that of the Republicans'. He said that having Senator Barkley present his views here, after Governor Dewey had done the same, would help preserve the university's status of political neutrality.

Because of inadequate seating facilities, the convocation will not be open to the general public.

Band Promises Big Show Saturday

The University band is planning a big half-time show for the Grizzly-Cougar football game Saturday, according to Justin Gray, band director. The program will include maneuvers by the 60-piece all-men's band and the newly organized 25-piece women's band.

The band also will turn out for the big Friday night rally and the Saturday morning parade.
